GEOLOGICAL EXCURSION

DR. GLENN TAKES CLASS TO RIDGETOP

The class in geology, under the direction of Dr. Glenn, made a trip to Ridgetop last Wednesday. The party, numbering about twenty, left the Union Station on an early train and in a short time were in the midst of that beautiful country surrounding Ridgetop, where abound some of the finest geological specimens to be found in any State in the Union. This section is particularly important, because here, better than anywhere, can be seen the different strata.

Some very fine fossils were found which were carefully analyzed by Dr. Glenn, who explained their origin, age and nature. After lunch had been procured from a neighboring house, the party turned to the station, with common consent agreeing that the day had been spent pleasantly and profitably.
