Stop! Look! Listen! We pick your department for you by your face

Requirements

Must have a bright, winning smile, and large, mournful eyes. No money, but must have a large credit. Brains unnecessary.

Under no consideration will any other type be accepted for this department. (See below).

Eyes must be trained to look up heavenward. The mournful look must be sharply accentuated, and the nose a headlight (in place of the usual halo). Also the student should have at least one suit. Coat not to reach much below the waist and trousers six or even eight inches below the knee.

Under no consideration whatever will any other type be accepted for this department. (See below).

This student must have had an apprenticeship of at least six years in a butcher's shop. The chin must be prominent at least one-eighth of an inch in front of the neck. Muscles, muscles, not brains, are required to enter this department.

Under no consideration whatever will any other type be accepted for this department. (See below).
No requirements at all are needed for this department, except that if the student has any teeth left in his head, they must be gold, especially those in the front. Hands also should be large, red and clumsy as possible. Cleanliness unnecessary.

Under no consideration whatever will any other type be accepted for this department. (See below).

Must have a head shaped like a cocoanut. A sharp pointed nose which, when not at its usual occupation, must be trained to hear. Hair is unnecessary, as you will, of course, later on wear a wig.

Under no consideration will any other type be accepted for this department. (See below).

No education necessary. Must only be able to make a cross (X) or mark in place of his name. Also must bring references to testify that he has learned at least ten different ways to say “Come in, and see us again.” Also face must be trained to a fixed smile.

Under no consideration whatever will any other type be accepted for this department. (See below).
